

Sanitized - Approved For Release : CIA-RDP

FOIA b3b

CPYRGHT

The Week in Washington

Intelligence Chief: Gen. M. Clifford, a Washington lawyer and former special counsel to President Truman, was chosen to succeed Dr. James R. Killian, Jr., who was an Eisenhower Administration science adviser, as chairman of the Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board. Mr. Clifford, 56, has been a member of the board since Mr. Kennedy established it in 1961 to review and recommend foreign intelligence activities.